

VETERAN OWNED COMPANY

APOLLO

MANUFACTURING COMPANY, LLC

Manufacturer of Precision Components

Precision components manufactured from a full range of materials utilizing the latest in CNC and conventional machining technology, supported by engineering expertise and a vigorous quality system, and delivered through exceptional customer service.

Whether it's the aerospace, nuclear, or heavy equipment market, Apollo Manufacturing Company, LLC is a preferred supplier of precision components. Utilizing sophisticated CNC milling and turning equipment, Apollo produces exacting parts, from prototype to production. The company is fully experienced with a wide range of materials; from aluminum, brass, stainless steel and super alloys to Teflon, plastics and ceramics.

Apollo supports its machining capabilities with a tooling department that designs and produces its own special cutting tools and fixturing. Once parts are produced, Apollo offers automated power washing, deburring, assembly and packaging.

Apollo Manufacturing Company, LLC delivers quality and service along with precision. A quality assurance program based on national and international standards guides all procedures from raw material handling through final inspection and shipping. A customer service program, aided by computerized job tracking, provides real-time information on order status, scheduling and delivery. Apollo's engineering know-how and CAD/CAM system offers efficient, cost-effective production and, in many cases, performance and cost improvements. Finally, Apollo gives its customers excellent turn-around and on-time delivery.
